My name is Tomas Hinton, co-founder, co-director and designer for Tomas Kitchen Living. We manufacture beautiful kitchens, free-standing cabinets and tables at our dedicated production centre in Cambridge. We also have showrooms in North London, St Albans and Cambridge - where we display the iconic Erik Buck Stools.

Ever since my Danish wife and I set up the Tomas brand over ten years ago, we have been enthusiastic dealers for some of the top names in Danish furniture and lighting. Alongside great brands such as Carl Hansen & Son and Louis Poulsen, we have been importing the authentic Erik Buck stools for our kitchen clients.

Now for the first time, we have decided that it would be really great to bring this wonderful piece of furniture to a wider audience and so have created this brochure and set up a dedicated web page: www.erikbuckstools.co.uk.

For me as designer (who knows just how it feels to be copied and ripped off) I also want to highlight the fact that this is the genuine article, made in Denmark by Hammel (who recently acquired Findahls). You might notice that there are various knock-off versions online and every now and then you'll see chunkier versions in bars and restaurants. I am pretty sure that the buyers will not have heard of Erik Buck and often won't even know that they are buying a stolen design!

Well, as our Danish friends say, the best way forward in the fight against plagiarism is to educate and raise awareness about the real thing.

So here it is, without further ado, it is my great pleasure to present the very wonderful Erik Buck Stool!

ERIK BUCK STOOLS

Acclaimed Danish designer Erik Buch was born in 1923 in Copenhagen and created some exquisite furniture designs in his lifetime.

One of his most iconic and enduring furniture pieces is his Model 61 bar stool, widely known simply as 'The Erik Buch Stool'.

This stool, as supplied by Tomas Kitchen Living, is made in Denmark by Hammel, the authorised manufacturer.

The frames are available in solid oak, walnut, beech and teak in various finishes and there are several colour options for the seat leather.

There are two heights:

Kitchen height (690mm) suitable for sitting at a typical 900mm high kitchen countertop.

Bar height (770mm) which is for a raised boxBAR or similar application.

Eagle-eyed fans of the Netflix series 'Mad Men' may notice a few of these pieces in Drapers' glamorous New York apartment!

The Buch Stool first appeared in 1960 and looks as relevant and beautiful today as ever - truly a Danish modern classic!
